

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

City Meeting.

Pursuant to adjournment, a meeting of the citizens of Janesville will be held at the Court Room, Friday Evening, March 22d, at 7 1/2 o'clock, to hear what reports may be submitted, and act upon the question of the repeal of the charter.

A full attendance of all interested is earnestly desired.

J. P. DICKSON, Chairman.
J. M. HASELTON, Secretary.

A VALUABLE MAP.—We have been shown a plan or specimen of a most valuable map, to be published by H. G. Bond, formerly a resident of this state, and prepared by Lieut. MAURY, the well-known superintendent of the U. S. coast survey. It is styled "The Washington Map of the United States." It embraces all the counties in each state of the Union, with the date of organization; the principal railroad towns; the late surveys of all the territories; the Pacific railroad routes; the coast surveys of the United States; the soundings of the oceans, gulf stream, &c.; two hemispherical maps of the world; a floral, geological, zoological and meteorological description of the Union; a table of distances between the principal cities; a time table showing the difference in time between Washington and other prominent cities; the relative church accommodations; a view of Mount Vernon; the capital at Washington, New York and Brooklyn, and the Washington monument; a medallion portrait of the Presidents, from Washington to Lincoln.

Mr. W. H. Green is the agent for this map, and is now soliciting subscriptions. The impression shown by him is only a specimen of the style of the work; the map is to be engraved on copper and more minutely filled up than the specimen. Mr. Green expects to be able to deliver the perfect copies some time in the course of the coming summer and fall. From an examination of this map we judge it to be the best yet published. Price $7.00. Mr. Green has the right of sale for Rock, Green, Dane, Walworth, Racine, Kenosha, Milwaukee and Jefferson counties.

Charter Meeting.

The meeting to receive and act upon the report of the committee appointed some time since with reference to a repeal of the city charter, will be held at the court room this evening.

It is, in all respects, desirable that there should be a general attendance of our citizens, and we hope that all who have an interest in the question (and who has not?) will be present.

Lost.—In this city on Main street, a left hand fur glove. Whoever finds it and leaves it at the Gazette office will be rewarded.

JACOB FOWLE.

Lost.—A fur glove, for the right hand. The finder is requested to leave it at this office.

AN ART ILLUSTRATION.—The Tribune in speaking of the present relations of the free, the border slave, and seceding states, says: "The actual condition of things is pretty much as if one of three partners should be robbing the firm of its property, while a second should the largest proprietor and threaten him with death in case he resisted."

A "POINE DAY."—Those readers who remember our old-time friend, "Pine-Day Jones," would have received his customary salutation to-day with a hearty relish for its appropriateness. It has, in truth, been one of the "vernal" days of spring. A breeze, soft as a sunset zephyr, has cooled a balmy atmosphere, and every whisper of the wind has been suggestive of the secrecy and softness of a lover's communication. "We feel poetical, but can't do justice to the subject. Nobody but the "vernifuge" poet is equal to the task.

CONGRESSMEN YET TO BE ELECTED.—The states which are yet to choose representatives, and their times for election, are as follows:

Connecticut,	April 1	North Carolina,	Aug. 8
Rhode Island,	April 3	California,	Sept. 2
Massachusetts,	April 5	Virginia,	Sept. 5
Tennessee,	Aug. 5	Kansas,	Nov. 5
Kentucky,	Aug. 5

Only two of the seceded states have chosen their representatives to the next house.—South Carolina and Florida. The others would have chosen in August, September and October—possibly may do so yet.

The members already elected stand thus: Republicans, 102; Democrats, 54.

Of those to be elected, the republicans will probably have seven. If the seceding states should elect, and send to Congress there would be but a small majority either way.

A Frozen Ship.—A whaling vessel which sailed from London in the year 1840, which in the Polar sea a ship embedded in the ice, with sails furled, and no signs of life on board. The captain and some of the crew descended into the cabin, and found coiled upon the floor a large Newfoundland dog, apparently asleep, but when they touched it they found the animal was dead and frozen as hard as stone. In the cabin was a young lady seated at the table, her eyes closed as if gazing at the intruder and had been frozen in an apparently resigned and religious attitude. Beside her was a commander of the brig, and brother to the lady. He was sitting at the table, dead, and before him was a sheet of paper, on which was written, "our cook has endeavored to strike a light—since yesterday morning, but in vain; all is now over." In another part of the cabin, stood the cook with the flint and tinder in hand, frozen in the vain endeavor to strike the fire that would alone save them. The terrors of the woman led the captain from the spot, who took with him the log book, as the sole memento of the ill-fated ship. It appeared that she also was from London and had been frozen in that place over fourteen years.

The Italians in Sierra Nevada, Cal., are appropriating to their own use the sunny side of the mountain on the north of the town. The terraced hill shows shelves of nicely planned gardens. No other people would have had the courage to cast their lot in so steep a place. We noticed, the other day, one of the industrious women of the colony trudging up the hill with 50 pounds of flour on her head. A witness remarked, "There! that's the kind of woman who will marry." A bystander retorted on behalf of the gentler of the sex, "you had better marry a pack mule."
